

Thoughts on the Daily Word

25th Week of Year. Friday 26th September. Readings: Haggai 1:15-2:9; Psalm: 42; Luke 9:18-22.

We are still in the model of priest, prophet, and king. Progress is taking place on building the Temple, but it is not just a building. It has to be filled with the presence of God. It is not just our building abilities; it has to be actually filled with his glory. Just what that means is being revealed in Jesus. It means his passion, his self-emptying, that he invites us to share. We do not make this happen God has to be at work in us.
