

Thoughts on the Daily Word

29th Week of Year. Monday 20th October. Readings: Romans 4:20-25; Psalm: Luke 1:69-75; Luke 12:13-21.

God has a plan! This is the faith of Abraham. He trusts in that plan, despite his many failures and weaknesses. The Resurrection of Jesus is at the heart of that plan, and we have the choice to believe. Jesus faces us with stark choices in the Gospel today. The kind of choices that mean we trust in his plan for us and the world. To leave everything behind and follow Jesus does not make sense unless we have a profound trust in God's plan for us. This is why Jesus is called the 'Logos', the Word in English. Its profound meaning is the purpose and Plan of God.
